ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 One of the basic principles of public sector organisations is the proper use of public funds. It is therefore important that all those working in the public sector are aware of the risk of wrongdoing and the means of enforcing the rules against it. The aim of this document is to set out the Bedford Group's policy and response plan for suspected or detected irregularities.

2. POLICY STATEMENT

- 2.1 The Bedford Group and its Member Boards are committed to a culture of honesty, openness and fairness. We are therefore also committed to the elimination of any fraud and corruption and to the rigorous investigation of any such cases and the punishment of those involved.
- 2.2 This policy provides a coherent and consistent framework to enable the Board Members and Officers to understand and implement arrangements enabling compliance. In conjunction with related policies and key documents it will also enable Board Members and Officers to identify and effectively report a potential breach.
- 2.3 The Bedford Group actively encourages anyone having reasonable suspicion of irregularities to report them. It is also the policy of the Group that no employee should suffer as a result of reporting reasonably held suspicions.
- 2.4 Bribery is a criminal offence. We do not, and will not, pay bribes or offer improper inducements to anyone for any purpose, nor do we, or will we, accept bribes or improper inducements. The Bedford Group, its Member Boards and its Officers are committed to the prevention, deterrence, and detection of bribery. We have zero-tolerance towards bribery whether internal or external to the Bedford Group, its Member Boards or third parties. We aim to maintain continuous anti-bribery compliance, rather than as a one-off exercise.
- 2.5 The Group will always seek to recover fully all losses from those responsible in proven cases of fraud or corruption including all costs incurred in the pursuit of action against them.
- 2.6 The Bedford Group requires that Members and Officers, including those permanently employed, temporary agency staff, consultants and contractors:
- Comply with the spirit, as well as the letter, of the laws and regulations of all jurisdictions in which the Bedford Group operates, in respect of the lawful and responsible conduct of activities.
 - This policy applies to all the Group's activities. For partners, joint ventures, agents and suppliers, we will seek to promote the adoption of policies consistent with the principles set out in this policy.

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

3. DEFINITIONS

- 3.1 There is no offence in law of fraud, but the term encompasses criminal offences involving the use of deception to obtain some benefit or to be to the detriment of some person or organisation.

The National Audit Office (NAO) defines Fraud as – “the intentional distortion of financial statements or other records by persons internal or external to the authority which is carried out to conceal the misappropriation of assets or otherwise for gain”.

Corruption is defined by the NAO as – “the offering, giving, soliciting or acceptance of an inducement or reward which may influence the action of any person”.

Bribery is a form of corruption. It is an inducement or reward offered, promised or provided, to gain personal, commercial, regulatory or contractual advantage. Any such advantage is referred to as a “business advantage” in this policy. More guidance is given in Appendix 1. It is unacceptable to:

- give, promise to give, or offer a payment, gift or hospitality with the expectation or hope that a business advantage will be received, or to reward a business advantage already given
- give, promise to give, or offer a payment, gift or hospitality to a government official, agent or representative to "facilitate" or expedite a routine procedure
- accept payment from a third party that you know, or suspect is offered with the expectation that it will obtain a business advantage for them
- accept a gift or hospitality from a third party if you know or suspect that it is offered or provided with an expectation that a business advantage will be provided by the Board in return
- retaliate against or threaten a person who has refused to commit a bribery offence or who has raised concerns under this policy
- engage in activity in breach of this policy.

4. DISCOVERY OF FINANCIAL IRREGULARITIES

- 4.1 Examples of the types of financial irregularity that might be suspected are:

- (i) Theft or abuse of Board property or funds
- (ii) Deception or falsification of records (e.g. fraudulent time or expense claims)

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

- 4.2 Financial irregularities can come to light in a number of ways. They are usually discovered as a result of:
- (i) Staff becoming aware of or suspecting that management controls are not being complied with
 - (ii) Routine work, or Audit testing
 - (iii) Information (tip-off) from a third party, internal or external to the organisation.
- 4.3 Any allegation, but particularly an anonymous one, should be treated with caution and discretion, because what appears to be suspicious circumstances may have a reasonable explanation. There is also a risk that some reports may be malicious.
- 4.4 Under no circumstances should information about any suspected irregularity, be passed to a third party or to the media without the express authority from the Chief Executive or Internal Auditor.

5. RESPONSIBILITY OF EMPLOYEES

- 5.1 Employees who are aware of or suspect that a financial irregularity is taking place or has taken place have a duty to report their suspicions, since by doing nothing, they may be implicating themselves. Employees who may feel uncomfortable referring suspicions to line managers are encouraged to contact the Chief Executive or the Internal Auditor. If these reporting lines are unacceptable to an employee, an alternative is available in the Board's "Whistle Blowing Procedure".
- 5.2 If an employee suspects that a financial irregularity of any type has occurred or is in progress, they should immediately inform their line manager. The only exception to this rule is where the employee suspects that the line manager might be involved in the irregularity. In that event, the employee should advise the Chief Executive, Internal Auditor or a Senior Board Member.
- 5.3 Employees must not attempt to investigate suspected irregularities themselves or discuss their suspicions other than with more senior managers in accordance with the guidance above.
- 5.4 As well as the possibility of civil action and criminal prosecution, officers that breach this policy will face disciplinary action, which could result in summary dismissal for gross misconduct. Dismissal can still be an outcome with or without civil action or criminal prosecution. More guidance is given in Appendix 2.

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

6. RESPONSIBILITIES OF MANAGERS

- 6.1 It is Management's responsibility to maintain system controls to ensure that the Group's resources are properly applied in the manner, on the activities, and within the limits approved. This includes responsibility for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.
- 6.2 Where a manager receives a report from an employee or other party of a suspected financial irregularity, they should immediately inform the Chief Executive, who in turn will notify the duly appointed Internal Auditor.
- 6.3 Line Managers should not themselves attempt to undertake any detailed investigation of the possible irregularity and should not discuss their suspicions or those reported to them, other than with the Chief Executive and the Internal Auditor.
- 6.4 In cases of suspected irregularities, it is often necessary to suspend a suspect from duty. Before an employee is suspended, advice should be sought from the Chief Executive. The purpose of suspension is to prevent any suggestion of a suspect having the opportunity to continue with the act complained of, falsify or destroy records, influence witnesses, etc. Suspension is not a punishment, nor does it imply any fault or guilt on the part of the employee concerned.

7. THE GROUP'S COMMITMENT TO ACTION

- 7.1 All Board Members are required to avoid any activity that breaches this policy. The prevention, detection and reporting of forms of corruption are the responsibility of all Board Members and Officers working for the Bedford Group or under its control.
- 7.2 The Bedford Group commits to:
 - Setting out a clear anti-fraud and corruption policy and keeping it up to date
 - Making all Members and Officers aware of their responsibilities, to adhere strictly to this policy at all times
 - Training all Members and employees so that they can recognise and avoid the use of bribery by themselves and others
 - Encouraging its Members and employees to be vigilant and to report any suspicious activity, providing them with suitable channels of communication and ensuring sensitive information is treated appropriately
 - Rigorously investigating instances of alleged corruption and assisting police and other appropriate authorities in any resultant prosecution
 - Taking firm and vigorous action against any individual(s) involved in corruption

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

- Providing information to all Members and Officers to report breaches and suspected breaches of this policy
- Including appropriate clauses in contracts to prevent bribery.
- The Members Code of Conduct requires that where a Board Member acts as a representative of the Board he or she must not use or attempt to use their position as a Member improperly to confer on or secure for themselves or any other person, an advantage or disadvantage.
- As well as the possibility of civil action and criminal prosecution, Board Members that breach this policy may be subject to referral to the Standards Committee and if convicted of a criminal offence may be debarred from the Board. More guidance is given in Appendix 2.

8. FACILITATION PAYMENTS

- 8.1 Facilitation payments are not tolerated and are illegal. Facilitation payments are unofficial payments made to Members or Officers to secure or expedite actions.

9. GIFTS AND HOSPITALITY

- 9.1 This policy does not change the requirements of our gifts and hospitality policy as detailed in the gifts and hospitality protocol. This makes it clear that:

Treat with extreme caution any offer or gift, favour or hospitality that is made to you personally which may possibly be perceived to be in connection with your position as a board member or employee.

Your personal reputation and that of the Boards can be seriously jeopardized by the inappropriate acceptance by you of a gift or hospitality.

The acceptance of favours, gifts and hospitality is not always unlawful or inappropriate. The decision for you in every case is whether or not it is appropriate to accept any gift or hospitality that might be offered to you, having regard to how it might be perceived.

No hard and fast rules can be laid down to cover every circumstance as to what is appropriate or inappropriate. This protocol offers general principles to enable you to make your own decisions.

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

10. PUBLIC CONTRACTS

- 10.1 Under the Public Contracts Regulations (which gives effect to EU law in the UK), a company is automatically and perpetually debarred from competing for public contracts where it has been convicted of a corruption offence or “the offence of bribery”.
- 10.2 Organisations that are convicted of “failing to prevent bribery” are not automatically barred from participating in tenders for public contracts.
- 10.3 The Bedford Group has the discretion to exclude organisations convicted of this offence.

11. RESPONSE PLAN

- 11.1 Upon receiving a report of suspected financial irregularity, the Internal Auditor will launch an investigation and a record will be made in the relevant Board’s Fraud Log. The Log will record all reported suspicions including those dismissed as unsubstantiated, minor or otherwise not investigated. It will also contain details of actions taken and conclusions reached. Significant matters will be reported to the relevant Board and the Chairman will be updated on the situation.
- 11.2 The Internal Auditor will confer with the Chief Executive to agree the action plan to be adopted in the light of the circumstances.
- 11.3 The Internal Auditor will notify the External Auditor of all frauds costing the Board over £15,000 or those considered by the Board to be significant (the External Auditor is the Auditor that is appointed by the Government’s Sector Led Body; SAAA or PSAA).
- 11.4 When a prima facie case of fraud or corruption has been established, the following procedure will apply regarding referral to the Police:

11.4.1 Minor cases of Misappropriation of Cash, etc.

- i. In minor cases of suspected fraud and/or cash misappropriation by employees, as soon as reasonable evidence has been acquired and speedy action is considered imperative in order to prove fraud, the Internal Auditor may call in the Police without reference to other officers. He will however advise the Chief Executive as soon as is practicable afterwards.

11.4.2 Major and More Complex Frauds:

- ii. The Internal Auditor will discuss the case with the Chief Executive, and consultation with the Police will normally be approved.
- iii. Depending upon Police advice, the case will be reviewed by the above officers who will decide if it should be referred officially to the Police for investigation. If it is decided to do so the Chief Executive will authorise the official complaint and notify the Chairman of the Board/Bedford Group.

- iv. Following the official report to the Police, any further investigations by the Internal Auditor that are considered necessary, will be planned and executed in close co-operation with the Police, with the Chief Executive and Chairman of the Board/Bedford Group being kept informed.
- v. The circumstances of the particular case will dictate when the Police and external auditors are informed, but it is recommended that the Police should be informed when:
 - There is evidence of an irregularity which needs to be confirmed by witness interview if criminal prosecution is contemplated
 - Interview of the suspect is desirable to confirm the evidence of records
 - A prima facie case of fraud has been established but the perpetrator could not be identified.

12. INVOLVING THE POLICE

- 12.1 Internal Auditors and Chief Executives may be reluctant to involve the Police in the belief that:
 - i. They are only interested if the alleged criminal offence is greater than a specific monetary value
 - ii. They will not be interested because of the potential complexity of the issues involved which render little chance of a successful prosecution
 - iii. The organisation prefers to deal with such incidents internally, avoiding publicity but implementing dismissal and recovery through civil action
 - iv. The Police will want hard evidence before they pursue investigations, but when it is provided, they advise that the rules of evidence have not been complied with.
- 12.2 Protracted internal investigations often unnecessarily delay involving the Police, thereby diminishing the value of co-operation with them. However, properly organised investigations, conducted by individuals with an inside working knowledge of the organisation, will be of great assistance to any subsequent Police enquiry, and management should therefore not be discouraged from liaising with the Police as soon as the issues are identified.

APPENDIX 1: THE BRIBERY ACT

The Bribery Act

There are four key offences under the Act:

- Bribery of another person (section 1)
- Accepting a bribe (section 2)
- Bribing a foreign official (section 6)
- Failing to prevent bribery (section 7)

The Bribery Act 2010 (http://www.opsi.gov.uk/acts/acts2010/ukpga_20100023_en_1) makes it an offence to offer, promise or give a bribe (Section 1). It also makes it an offence to request, agree to receive, or accept a bribe (Section 2). Section 6 of the Act creates a separate offence of bribing a foreign public official with the intention of obtaining or retaining business or an advantage in the conduct of business.

Penalties

An individual guilty of an offence under sections 1, 2 or 6 is liable:

- On conviction in a magistrates court, to imprisonment for a maximum term of 12 months, or to a fine not exceeding £5,000, or to both
- On conviction in a crown court, to imprisonment for a maximum term of ten years, or to an unlimited fine, or both

Bribery is a serious offence against the Board and Officers will face disciplinary action if there is evidence that they have been involved in this activity, which could result in summary dismissal for gross misconduct. Disciplinary action will be taken in addition to, or instead of, criminal proceedings, depending on the circumstances of each individual case. Board Members will have to resign as a Member of the Board.

Adequate Procedures

Whether the procedures are adequate will ultimately be a matter for the courts to decide on a case-by-case basis. Adequate procedures need to be applied proportionately, based on the level of risk of bribery within the Board. It is for individual organisations to determine proportionate procedures in the recommended areas of six principles. These principles are not prescriptive. They are intended to be flexible and outcome focused, allowing for the different circumstances of organisations.

Small organisations will, for example, face different challenges to those faced by large multi-national enterprises. The detail of how organisations apply these principles will vary, but the outcome should always be robust and effective anti-bribery procedures.

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

Proportionate Procedures

An organisation's procedures to prevent bribery by persons associated with it are proportionate to the bribery risks it faces and to the nature, scale and complexity of the organisation activities. They are also clear, practical, accessible, effectively implemented and enforced.

Top Level Commitment

The top-level management (be it a board of directors, the owners or any other equivalent body or person) are committed to preventing bribery by persons associated with it. They foster a culture within the organisation in which bribery is never acceptable.

Risk Assessment

The organisation assesses the nature and extent of its exposure to potential external and internal risks of bribery on its behalf by persons associated with it. The assessment is periodic, informed and documented. It includes financial risks but also other risks such as reputational damage.

Due Diligence

The organisation applies due diligence procedures, taking a proportionate and risk-based approach, in respect of persons who perform or will perform services for or on behalf of the organisation, to mitigate identified bribery risks.

Communication (including training)

The organisation seeks to ensure that its bribery prevention policies and procedures are embedded and understood throughout the organisation through internal and external communication, including training that is proportionate to the risks it faces.

Monitoring and review

The organisation monitors and reviews procedures designed to prevent bribery by persons associated with it and makes improvements where necessary.

This Bedford Group is committed to proportionate implementation of these principles.

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

APPENDIX 2: BOARD OFFICERS/EMPLOYEES

Gifts and Hospitality

As a Board employee there is a risk that accepting gifts and hospitality can place (or be seen to place) you under a sense of obligation to reciprocate a favour given. This sense of obligation in honest people is capable of being exploited.

Gifts and hospitality can be offered and accepted purely as a normal courtesy and where refusal may give unnecessary offence to people and organisations. However, there are clear limits to what is acceptable. You must be aware of your legal obligations in respect of these matters.

The Board maintains a Hospitality Register where gifts and hospitality offered or received should be recorded. You should familiarise yourself with this register and in what circumstances you are obliged to use it. (Further details on hospitality registers can be found below).

Any offer of a gift, favour or hospitality should be treated with extreme caution. The person or organisation making the offer may be doing (or seeking to do) business with the Board. If you have any concerns about gifts and hospitality you have received or been offered you should discuss these with your line manager. There are no circumstances in which it is permissible to seek gifts or hospitality.

Failure to comply with any of the guidelines contained in this handbook could result in formal disciplinary action.

Guidelines

The following are some general considerations you should be aware of in your conduct as a Board employee when offered gifts or hospitality:

- Standards of conduct acceptable in the private sector differ significantly from those expected in the public sector
- An Internal Drainage Board is a democratic body accountable to the local community and a statutory body whose functions, powers and duties are governed by the law. A local authority may be required to comply with market disciplines in carrying out its functions, but it is not and cannot be, a profit-making trading enterprise.
- The public have a legitimate expectation that a local authority's affairs will be conducted in a fair and honest manner without favour or disfavour to particular interests. Corruption or even suspicion of corruption is corrosive of public confidence in local democracy. In a real sense, therefore, the survival of local democracy depends on the values by which it operates.
- In all cases, the best protection against error is open adherence to high standards of conduct. The situations in which hospitality and gifts are accepted should be kept to a bare minimum. They should only be accepted when genuinely justifiable in the public interest and if they will not undermine public confidence in local government.

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

Legal Obligations

You should make yourself fully aware of your legal obligations in respect of gifts and hospitality. The main legal provisions may be summarised as follows:

- It is an offence for employees to solicit or accept any gift or reward in return for allowing themselves to be influenced in any way in their official capacity
- Employees should not accept any fee or reward whatsoever other than their proper remuneration
- Where an employee is shown to have received any money, gift or consideration from a person or organisation holding or seeking to hold a contract with the Board, corruption is presumed unless the contrary is proved, or the arrangement has been declared and approved by the Board/WMA Group
- A breach may lead to disciplinary action and/or prosecution. Conviction by a Court may lead to a fine or imprisonment or both
- In addition to any disciplinary action (which may include dismissal) an employee may be liable to forfeiture of superannuation benefits

Contracts – Cancellation Clauses

The Board's standing orders require contracts to include a clause entitling the Board to cancel and recover any loss if the contractor offers or gives an inducement or reward to any person. You should therefore report any such offer or gift without delay to the Chief Executive.

Hospitality Registers

You should give written notice to your Chief Executive of an offer (or the receipt) of any gift, or of an invitation involving hospitality (wherever possible in advance of attendance), for inclusion in your service hospitality register. You should provide the following details:

- name of the person or organisation concerned
- details of any dealings (existing or proposed) between the person or organisation and the Board, which are known to you
- the nature of the gift offered or received
- the nature, location, date and time of the hospitality proposed
- Whether you have already refused the offer, returned the gift, or whether you are seeking approval for the acceptance of the gift or hospitality (and your reasons for doing so).

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

Approval from the Chief Executive

You should refuse the offer or invitation (or return the gift) unless your Chief Executive has advised you that it may be accepted or retained. If the Chief Executive is personally involved or requires clarification, then the Chairman should be consulted.

When refusing an offer (or returning a gift) you should act with courtesy, informing the person or organisation of the Board's policy, so as to minimise the risk of causing offence, by using the standard authority wide letter.

The acceptance of an offer or a gift or the retention of a gift will not be sanctioned:

- If it could reasonably be regarded as an inducement or reward, or as harmful to the Board's reputation as a public authority
- Unless to do so can be justified as furthering the purposes or interests of the Board and as being in the public interest

When considering whether to sanction the acceptance or retention of a gift your Chief Executive will consider the circumstances and timing of the offer.

Types of Gifts and Hospitality

The following gives specific guidance on handling issues related to different types of gifts and hospitality that you may be offered. Should you require further clarification or have an issue not covered in these points you should contact the Chief Executive.

Gifts

Sample tokens of modest value bearing the name or insignia of the organisation giving them (for example, pens, diaries, or calendars) whether given personally, or received in the post, may be retained unless they could be regarded as an inducement or reward.

Other kinds of gift, including vehicles, watches, jewellery, food, clothes, or the provision of credit facilities, are unacceptable in any circumstances. Single bottles of drink costing less than £10 may be accepted providing that the gift is on a one-off basis.

'Free' Offers

The offer or supply of goods or other benefits 'free of charge' or at substantially below market prices should be treated with caution and rejected if there is any suspicion that this is being done as a disguised inducement or reward.

Social Events

Participation in social gatherings, for example, golfing days or quasi-official events organised by a person or organisation doing business with the Board, (or hoping to do so), would not normally be justifiable in the public interest (even in the Employee's own time). It should be avoided unless, in exceptional circumstances, an employee is asked to attend as the nominated representative of the Board.

Any attendances must be authorised by your line manager and entered into the service hospitality register (see above). This does not apply to social gatherings where the main purpose of the event is for the Board's Employees to meet with representatives of businesses, voluntary associations, or community organisations.

Lunches/Private Functions

Offers of lunch or dinner (and similar invitations) should only be accepted where there is no conflict with any of the guidance set out above. The scale and nature of the hospitality, if accepted, must be appropriate for the occasion and should not be excessively lavish or extravagant. The frequency and scale of hospitality should not be significantly greater than what the Board would be likely to provide in return. It should be restricted to occasions which have an explicit business purpose. Offers from a contractor to attend private functions should be refused.

Arts/Sporting Events

Invitations to attend functions that have no bearing on the business relationship with a contractor should be refused. These would include tickets to the theatre, opera or sporting event, visits to night clubs or holidays abroad.

Conferences

The travelling and subsistence costs of employees attending a course, conference or visit which might be used to promote new goods or services should be borne by the Board or the employee. This consideration should not preclude the acceptance of appropriate hospitality at genuine site visits, seminars or public professional/ business events. Acceptance by employees of hospitality whilst in attendance at conferences and courses is acceptable where it is clear the hospitality is corporate rather than personal; this may include an invitation to the employee's spouse or partner.

Hospitality Provided by the Board

On occasion, it may be desirable for the Board to provide hospitality for persons or organisations in the private sector. The hospitality provided should only occur where an expected benefit to the Board has been proven; it should be appropriate for the occasion and should receive the prior approval of the Chairman and Chief Executive. All hospitality given should also be entered in your hospitality register (see above).

ANTI-FRAUD AND CORRUPTION POLICY

APPENDIX 3: BOARD MEMBERS

Gifts and Hospitality

The acceptance of gifts and hospitality by Board Members is not merely an administrative issue. It reflects directly upon the perception of Members and of the Authority as acting in the public interest or as acting for the personal advantage of friends and for what personal benefit Members can get out of their position.

The guidance sets out:

1. the principles which should be applied whenever a Member has to decide whether it would be proper to accept any gift or hospitality;
2. a procedure for obtaining consent to accept a gift or hospitality when a Member considers that it would be proper to accept it;
3. a procedure for declaring any gift or hospitality received and for accounting for any gift to the Authority; and
4. circumstances where acceptance of gifts and hospitality is appropriate.

The Code does not apply to the acceptance of any facilities or hospitality, which may be provided to you by the Board.

General Principles

In deciding whether it is proper to accept any gift or hospitality, Members should apply the following principles. Such an offer should not be accepted if to do so would be in breach of one or more of these principles:

Principle 1 - Never accept a gift or hospitality as an inducement or reward for anything you do as a Board Member.

Principle 2 - Hospitality should only be accepted if there is a commensurate benefit to the Authority.

Principle 3 - You should only accept gifts in very limited circumstances.

Principle 4 - Never accept a gift or hospitality if acceptance might be open to misinterpretation.

Principle 5 - Never accept a gift or hospitality which puts you under an improper obligation.

Principle 6 - Never solicit a gift or hospitality.
